LB 427

SENATOR BEUTLER: I think it would be covered under that section, Senator.

SENATOR JANSSEN: All right. Thank you, Senator Beutler. I just wanted that on the record so that we...we do not exclude those people from those. I'll give the rest of my time back to the Chair.

SPEAKER KRISTENSEN: Thank you. Senator Bruning.

SENATOR BRUNING: Mr. Speaker, members, you know, as I took a look at this bill and thought about it, I have serious concerns as well and I share Senator Dwite Pedersen's...some of the concerns Senator Pedersen brought up, and I guess I do have some questions for Senator Beutler, if he would yield for...yield to some question.

SPEAKER KRISTENSEN: Senator Beutler, would you respond?

SENATOR BEUTLER: Yes.

SENATOR BRUNING: Senator Beutler, one of the concerns I have is I know the FCC is working on a similar...a similar project to have a similar type list and I guess my concern is how...how you see those lists fitting together and whether or not this may become a duplication of that effort.

SENATOR BEUTLER: Senator, I think that's an excellent question and I tried to indicate, I indicated just briefly in my remarks that I would think in a perfect world that a national list that was enforced by law would be the perfect remedy, and I think that is coming about and this bill has a provision in it that at such time as that list is in effect that we would participate in that list and not have our separate list, and I...I agree with you in that regard.

SENATOR BRUNING: Thank you. A second question, Senator, and I think this is...this is a broader question, but as I look at my own daily life and most of us...most of us...most Nebraskans, people are busy and so there's more and more mail order shopping that goes on. When I buy anything, most of my clothes I buy
